UGI students distribute woollens cloths to needy

MOHALL, FEB 5

The students of Universal Group of Institutions collected woollen clothes distributed to needy & under privileged people. Distribution was started from Leprosy Home, later lead to the slum areas nearby villages of Lathu where people thronged to receive them. Due to desperation of getting woollens amongst the poor, the students had to tackle the situation gently making sure that there are no disputes. Dr. Gurpreet Singh, Chairman of Universal Group of Institutions motivated the students that the clothes must be checked, cleaned, folded and segregated into various groups like Children - Boys, Girls, Youth, Men and Women according to sizes. He further informed that we have observed that children belonging to poor backgrounds avoid going to school in winters as they don't have woollens to safeguard them from biting cold. As a result, their education and health suffers.
